Draft CoreTrustSeal Requirements 2023-2025 are available

First and foremost, we would like to thank the CoreTrustSeal community for their continued support. Your input into the review of the CoreTrustSeal requirements has been an invaluable tool during this process.

The CoreTrustSeal Board has taken three years of experience reviewing applications under the existing guidelines and input from the community to help shape your wishes into these new revisions. Suggested changes to the requirements listed in the community survey were overwhelmingly supported by the survey participants with 78% agreeing with proposed changes on average across the survey. The suggested changes combined with your feedback were shaped into the current final draft version of the new requirements.

You will find the draft requirements here: Draft CoreTrustSeal Trustworthy Data Repositories Requirements 2023-2025.

If you have any final comments or recognise any major omissions, please leave that feedback here in this final survey. (closes 31 July).

As a community we understand that continual review of our policies, processes and procedures is required to ensure we are good stewards of the digital objects we are assigned to protect. With that in mind, we remind you that this is an ongoing process and even as we finish the final minor edits to this version of the requirements, we are always gathering information for the next round of changes. Thanks again for your continued support and we look forward to building and growing our community together.

Thank you very much!
